

San Ramon, California – January 8, 2010 – WebDispatch.com, your local computer repair, support, and networking company is pleased to announce the addition of two new partners, John Schroeder and Mike Palmer.

“The technical knowledge that John & Mike bring to our team allows us to expand our service offerings into new areas”, said Jim Erickson, Owner of WebDispatch.com. “We are lucky to have their proven experience, energy, and ability to attain results.”

John Schroeder’s progressive background within Information Technology over the last 17 years includes firsthand experience in the inevitable rise, replacement, and retirement of numerous technologies. John has a solid business background and understands the bottom line-goals of doing business along with an understanding of how to achieve those goals through Information Technology. He also has clear understanding of end user concerns, which are often essential to a successful technology implementation.

John will oversee our operations where he will focus and complement the services we provide at WebDispatch.com

Michael Palmer has enjoyed a substantial career in Information Technology for the last 28 years. His prior position was with a multi-national, multi-billion dollar company heading a global team of high-tech specialists. He led the team in the selection, procurement, and implementation of global technological solutions. Mike has a unique perspective on technological issues as well as the ability to plan, design, and implement solutions.

Mike will manage the firm’s strategy for technology growth to ensure our products and services meet the growing needs of our customers.
